

SALT STORMS IN WEST UTAH

(By Associated Press)

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, April 20.—Towns in the vicinity of Great Salt Lake were visited by one of their infrequent "freak" storms recently, a white dust, said by some to be salt, falling over the entire Salt Lake valley in conjunction with a light rainfall. Some of the older inhabitants call them "salt storms" and maintain that salt is rained upon the earth.

According to the local weather bureau, however, the fall of salt or sand, comes only when there is a high wind which whips the salt or sand from the salt beds in the vicinity of the Great Salt Lake and drops it several miles away. It is said that most of the substance which gives everything a white coat is sand and not salt, but this is disputed by those who have tasted the substance and pronounce it salt.

Newly washed windows and automobiles were coated during the recent storm, bringing a harvest of work for the window cleaners and automobile washers.

WOOL CROP WILL BREAK RECORDS

(By Associated Press)

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, April 20.—The 1919 wool crop of Utah and other western wool-growing states promises to be the best ever produced, according to S. W. McClure, secretary of the National Woolgrowers' association, with headquarters in this city. Mr. McClure says the crop will break all records in quality, although it will not be so large as some previous shearings.

Buyers from eastern markets, especially Boston, already are inquiring about prices. Active buying is expected to begin almost any day, Mr. McClure expects the prices to range from 40 cents to 55 cents a pound.

There has been considerable dispute recently over the price to be paid shearers this year, the men insisting upon 17½ cents a head, while the growers are offering five cents a head less. Shearing in some sections of Utah and southern Idaho already under way.

LARAMIE HOME OF SUFFRAGISTS

(By Associated Press)

LARAMIE, Wyo., April 21.—This city not only claims the oldest woman voter in the United States, but also lays claim to having had the first woman voter and first woman court bailiff.

Mrs. Nancy Wilhelmina Brown, recently named "mother of the convention" of the National American Woman's suffrage association at St. Louis, is the wife of Judge Melville C. Brown of Laramie county's police court. She is the oldest voter in the association.

Mrs. Brown was not old enough to vote when woman suffrage in Wyoming became a fact but she began visiting the voting booths in 1874 and has been voting at every election since.

"Grandma" Swain of Laramie was the first woman voter in the United States as far as the records show. She cast her vote while on her way to market to buy groceries. Mrs. Nathan Stark, now of Fort Morgan, Colo., reached the polls in Cheyenne shortly after "Grandma" Swain had voted.

The late Mrs. Martha Atkinson, mother of John M. Symons of Laramie was the first woman court bailiff. Mrs. Stephen Boyd, first school teacher in Laramie county, now dead, was a member of the first grand jury to be composed of women.

SILVER STATUE OF ADA REHAN

(By Associated Press)

HELENA, Mont., April 20.—A request for information from a resident of Medford, Mass., as to the whereabouts of the silver figure of Justice, admired by the thousands at the World's Columbian exposition at Chicago in 1893 as a part of the Montana state exhibit, has recalled to mind a quarter century mystery as to the disappearance of the once famous statue.

The statue, for which the late Ada Rehan, the actress, posed as the model, was formed of pure silver and mounted on a sphere of unalloyed gold. It was constantly guarded during the exposition by three armed men, and at the close was placed on a special car and started to Helena under escort of two armed guards. Here it was removed to the court house, which then was used also as the state capitol. Some days later it was discovered that the silver statue had been removed, and a painted wooden one substituted.

The theft was kept secret and detectives were employed in an effort to locate the original statue, but never with any success. The state industrial accident board, to which the Massachusetts man's inquiry was addressed, was unable to give him any information in the matter.

NOTICE TO DRIVERS
